LETTER FROM PRESIDENT

Welcome to our breeder's directory. The advertisers in this directory are passionate about the Galloway breed as these cattle have so much to offer to the beef cattle world. They are one of the two pure beef breeds remaining as there has never been a breed-up program instigated; this adds to the hybrid vigor resulting from crossing with other breeds.

Galloway are known to be great foragers-often eating plants others will push aside. They work very well in a grass based program and also in a feed lot setting. Tests in Canada show them finishing out on 25% less feed. They produce tasty and tender meat with little back fat. In colder climates this may be because their double hair coat protects them from the cold thus lessening the need for a heavy back fat layer. Instead, that energy goes toward fine, extensive marbling. They will be out grazing when other breeds are huddled up in the cold. In southern areas they will shed their outer coat.

The Galloway originated in the harsh lowlands of southwest Scotland. As early as 1570 they were a preferred breed. They were first imported to the US in 1866. The American Galloway Breeders Association registers black, red and dun solid colored animals. There is a separate section of the herd book for the White Galloway. There are no belted cattle involved-they have their own registry-the US Belted Society.

Feel free to contact advertisers or AGBA directors with questions you might have. Our website, americangalloway.com, has a wealth of information and pictures. We have a quarterly newsletter, The Galloway Dispatch, which can be mailed to you and is also on the website.

Thanks to all our advertisers. Go Galloway!

2021 World Galloway Congress

The Belted Galloway Society invites you to attend the 2021 World Galloway Congress to be held in Louisville, Kentucky in November in 2021.

Kentucky is a distinctive state and home to a variety of world-renowned events which offers an exciting and unique program of activities for the Congress.

Known as the "Bluegrass State," Kentucky is home to 38,000 beef cattle farms, the 14th largest cattle producing state in the United States with over 2.2 million head of cattle. Also, home to the largest all-breed purebred livestock event in the world, with over 30,000 entries, you can attend the North American International Livestock Exposition during Congress! Kentucky is not only a front runner in the beef business, but also famous for its signature distilled spirit, bourbon. Ninety-five percent of the world's bourbon is produced in over 50 distilleries across the state. Enjoy your bourbon in a mint julep at Churchill Downs, home of “the most exciting two minutes in sports,” the world-renowned Kentucky Derby!

Make your plans today to join us in Louisville, Kentucky in November 2021 for the 14th World Galloway Congress. Take the opportunity to meet your colleagues face-to-face from all over the world. We have a website dedicated to the 2021 World Galloway Congress.

Visit:

<https://worldgallowaycongress2020.com/>
and learn about our events planned.

Registration opens January 1, 2021.
